TO COUNTRY MERCHANTS.

I AM now receiving my Fall Stock of School Books, Paper and School Stationery, and notwithstanding the great rise in price of many of the articles in my line, I shall continue to sell with few exceptions as low, and on many articles lower than heretofore. My price will be as near the New York figure as possible, and on some goods I will guarantee to sell as low. I can confidently assert that I can and will sell as low as any merchant in the city. My rent is now from $300 to $600 lower than that of any other Stationer, and my arrangements are such that I purchase my goods a little cheaper. It is useless to enumerate the articles of my stock. I have been in the trade in Milwaukee eight years, and know something of the wants of my customers.

My old friends, and new, will find me at 165 East Water St., up stairs, entrance on Michigan street.

CURE FOR ALL!
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT

CITIZENS OF THE UNION—
You have done me the honor as with one voice, from one end of the Union to the other, to stamp the character of my Ointment with your approbation. It is scarcely two years since I made it known among you, and already it has obtained more celebrity than any other Medicine in so short a period. THOMAS HOLLOWAY,
38, corner Ann and Nassau streets, New York.

ASTONISHING CURE OF SORE LEGS, AFTER NINE YEARS STANDING.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. W. J. Langley, of Huntsville, Yadkin Co., North Carolina U. S., dated Nov 1, 1853.

☞ READ HIS OWN WORDS ☜

To Professor HOLLOWAY—
SIR: It is not my wish to become notorious, neither is this letter written for the mere sake of writing, but to say, that your Ointment cured me of one of the most dreadful cutaneous diseases that flesh is heir to, and which was considered by all who knew me, to be entirely beyond the reach of medicine. For nine years I was afflicted with one of the most painful and truly loathsome sore legs that ever fell to the lot of man; and after trying every medicine I had ever heard of I resigned in despair all hope of being cured; but a friend brought me a couple of large pots of your Ointment, which caused the sores to heal, and I entirely regained my health, to my agreeable surprise and delight, and to the astonishment of my friends. (Signed) W. J. LANGLEY.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF A BAD BREAST WHEN NEARLY AT THE POINT OF DEATH.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. Durant, dated New Orleans, Nov. 9, 1853.

To Prof. HOLLOWAY, &c., cor. Ann and Nassau Sts., N. Y.
Dear Sir: It is with heartfelt gratitude I have to inform you, that by the use of your Ointment and Pills, the life of my wife has been saved. For seven years she had a bad breast, with ten running wounds, (not of a cancerous nature) I was told that nothing could save her; she was then induced to use your Ointment and Pills, when, in the short space of three months, they effected a perfect cure, to the astonishment of all who knew us. We obtained your medicines from Messrs. Wright & Co., of Chartres street, New Orleans. I send this from "Hotel des Princes," Paris, although I had written it at New Orleans before we finally left, at that time not knowing your address in New York. (Signed) R. DURANT.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:

Bad Legs,	Fistulas,	Scalds,
Bad Breasts,	Gout,	Sore Nipples,
Burns,	Glandular Swellings,	Sore Throat,
Bunions,		Skin diseases
Chilblains,	Lumbago,	Scurvy,
Chapped hands,	Piles,	Sore heads,
Contracted and Stiff Joints,	Rheumatism,	Ulcers,
	Salt Rheum,	Wounds.

 Sold at the establishment of Prof. HOLLOWAY, at No. 80 Maiden Lane, New York City; also by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the United States, in Pots, at 37½ cents, 27 cents and $1 50 cents each. To be had wholesale of the principal Drug Houses in the Union.

There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

MILWAUKEE:

SATURDAY:::::::::::::::::::::::::DECEMBER 9.

Kansas.—The News of last evening glories in the election of Whitfield, pro-slavery candidate, over Flenniken, free soil, as delegate to Congress from Kansas.

It says that the slaveholders of Missouri had a perfect right to cross over to Kansas and vote for Whitfield, and then return to their homes. The standard of an editor's morality must be low indeed, when he justifies illegal voting.

We have no doubt but the News's man would rejoice if Kansas should become a slave State.

Arrival of the Union.—The Sentinel, this forenoon, received a private despatch that the Steamship Union arrived at New-York last evening, (8th) from Havre and Southampton.

There was little or no change in the price of Breadstuffs.

No news of importance from Sebastopol, up to the 15th of Nov.

It was rumored that Omer Pacha has crossed the Pruth, into Bessarabia.

110,000 Russians had entered Crimea

The British Government have chartered the Steamship Arabia to transport troops to Sebastopol.

Union among the Republicans.

We admit there is room for mistakes in estimating the political complexion of the next legislature; but the best evidence goes to show, that the Republicans have a clear majority in the Assembly, and a clear majority in joint ballot of the two houses. In the Senate there is but one Democratic majority, and we know enough personally of some of the democratic members of the Senate, to believe they will oppose no factious opposition to the measures of the other party proper in themselves, nor to the reforms which are conceded necessary, and which the Republican party are expected to move with reference to

We think the future success of the Republican party in the State, depends much in the use its representatives make, during the present session of the legislature, of the power entrusted to them. Should we be mistaken in reference to the democracy of the Senate, and they should prove factious, and defeat measures only because the other side originated them, theirs will be the fault, and upon them will fall the retribution; but should they not, as we confidently believe, if the Republican party fails to meet the just expectations of the people, the fault will be theirs alone.

Union of action is the great essential to their success. The first effort of our opponents will be to distract our own councils. Already we hear in different parts of the State, confident expressions on the part of the Hunkers, that they can easily accomplish this. They know we have the strength to elect our own United States Senator, and to originate and carry out our own measures, but they feel a confidence that some mode of distracting us can be found or invented, that will ruin us as least, if it does not benefit them.

We say again, the people have chosen a Republican legislature to first elect a true Republican United States Senator, and second to accomplish the many measures of State Reform so palpably demanding accomplishment. They have put a majority into this legislature for these very objects, and if this majority does allow itself to be distracted, and the purpose of the people thereby defeated, it is too much to hope that we shall long maintain our ascendancy.

The first great purpose of the Republican representatives should be union among themselves. We have plenty of good men for United States Senator. There is not a particle of necessity either for going into the ranks of the party condemned by the people, or for taking a doubtful or middle man. It is only necessary that we should resolve upon union; union first, last, and always.

By this means we shall secure the election of such a man to the U. S. Senate as the people desire and require; and we shall also carry out and perfect those measures of reform which we are confidently expected to carry out

And by this means only can we discharge our present duty to the people, or maintain the ascendancy which we have won.—Kenosha Tel.

St. Petersburg Eating Arrangement.—We come to the pastry-cooks, which offer the pirogu, an oily fish cake, a tempting morsel to a Muscovite. Little benches are placed around tables, on which is put this dainty, covered with canvass, for it must be eaten hot. A pot of green oil and a stand of salt are ready, and, on the entrance of a purchaser, the cake is dipped into the jar, and being sprinkled with salt is presented to him. But among the most singular articles is the frozen meat—in winter which the Russian butcher saws into slices of about an inch or two in thickness. Persons who are unable to purchase a whole bird, for instance, can buy a wing, a leg, or any part he fancies by itself. * *

The favorite dish of the Russians is tshee or cabbage soup, made thus: Six or seven heads of cabbage are chopped up and mixed with half a pound of barley meal, a quarter of a pound of butter, some salt, and two pounds of mutton cut into small pieces, with a jug of guass. With the poor the meat and butter are left out; the rich have other ingredients.

A Happy Land.—A writer from Florence says that in many respects Italy is the most beautiful country in the world. It is a land, for example, where cleaning house, washing day, and all other such interesting epochs in the American calendar, are intolerated and unknown. This exemption from the great domestic evil of cleaning house is owing not so much to a love of dirt as to the peculiar construction of the buildings. Thus, for instance, where the ceilings and walls are frescoed, or the latter covered with silk or paper hangings, there is no need of whitewashing, and where the panels and doors are of marble or oak, there is no necessity of scouring paint. The ceilings and walls are kept clean by long-handled brushes. The carpets there are fastened to iron rings in the floor, by means of long hooks in the binding, and then can be raised and laid down again as noiselessly and easily as bed covers. In Italy a large portion of the housework, such as washing, cleaning windows, &c., is done at an early hour in the morning, before the family are up for the day; and so quietly is it accomplished that to a stranger it seems as if the invisible wand of some mighty magician had changed all in the night.

Our Streets never presented a more lively appearance than they have for the last few days. The excellent sleighing we are enjoying just at this time induces farmers to come forward with whatever they have for sale—which, as a general thing, brings a good price. Wood is higher this fall than it has ever before been. A common sized load—say three-quarters of a cord—cannot be bought for less than two dollars.—Fond du Lac Union.

Pike River Bridge.—The building of the bridge across Pike River, in this city, for the Lake Shore Road has been let to our enterprising townsman, Alfred Burroughs, to be completed by the first of February.—Kenosha Telegraph.

Sir Robert Peel's Family.

The London correspondent of the New York Sunday Times furnishes that journal with the following sketch of the family of Sir Robert Peel:

"The late Sir Robert Peel's father, who amassed a colossal fortune by cotton spinning, was very ambitious of 'founding a family,' as it is called: and the first step would be, of course, to get a baronetcy. Now, though Pitt made quite an army of peer and baronets out of bankers, merchants, ship-owners and country gentlemen, he had a dislike to fastening hereditary rank on mere manufacturers. Old Peel was in Parliament, and, as a rank tory, voted for the greater portion of Pitt's measures. In return he demanded a baronetcy. Pitt's response was, 'He may have a knighthood, which is all that we gave Arkwright, the millionaire cotton spinner in Derbyshire.' This was true, with the addition that Arkwright, who appeared at court with 'a loyal and dutiful address.' was dubbed knight by George III., of his own accord, without any suggestions from his minister Pitt.

At this time, while the question of the baronetcy was pending Peel (who then spelt his name Peels) did two things—he continued to vote with Pitt, and he kept in trade. The firm was 'Peel and Yates,' as every Manchester man recollects. The war with France came on, and when invasion was threatened, a 'loyalty loan' was got up, to which the bulk of British capitalists contributed largely.—Peel gave £20,000, which was a very large sum. But, besides this, Peel also made a present to George III. of a splendid 74-gun ship, which he had purchased from the builder, and had fully filled up with stores, provisons and all the other requirements of a first-rate man-of-war. This liberal example was thought so well of by the King that he himself suggested that the wealthy manufacturer should be raised to the rank of baronet, which was done on Peel's showing (which he readily did, having by that time purchased the great landed estate of Tamworth) that he could settle and entail to the annual value of £5,000 a year 'maintain the dignity of the rank.'

An important egg trade is carried on in the market of San Francisco. The Farallones de los Frayles, a group of rocky islets, lying a little more than twenty miles west of the entrance to the bay of San Francisco, are the resort of innumerable sea-fowl, known by the fishermen as "murres." These islands are almost inaccessible, and, with a single exception, are uninhabited. They, therefore, very naturally afford a resort for great multitudes of birds. Some time since a company was organized in San Francisco, for the purpose of bringing the eggs of the murres to market. An imperfect idea of the numbers of these birds may be formed from the fact that this company sold in that city the last season, (a period of less than two months, July and parts of June and August, (more than five hundred thousand eggs. All these were gathered on a single one of these islands, and, in the opinion of the eggers, not more than one in six of those deposited on that island were gathered. The eggs are three and a half inches in length, and are esteemed a great delicacy.

"No Local Column."—A gentleman called at our sanctum, the other day, and requested the favor of looking at the last copy of a certain Western paper, saying that he contemplated sending an advertisement to the proprietors. The paper was handed him, and he proceeded to examine it. After a hasty inspection he threw it down, saying "I do not like that paper—it has no local column," when he departed. And so the paper lost an advertisement.—Buffalo Express.

Ida May.—This long looked-for tale appeared at last, on Wednesday, from the press of Messrs. Phillips, Sampson & Co. We are not surprised to learn that, before the day had closed, the whole of the large edition of 10,500 copies had been exhausted. We shall indeed be disappointed if the popularity of this exquisite story does not increase just in proportion as the public become better acquainted with one of the most charming ideal personages the pen of novelists has drawn. We mean, of course, its patient and gentle, though dignified heroine, —the much suffering and over lovely woman.—The character of Ida May is one so intrinsically exquisite, so true to itself throughout the tale, and one that so entirely wins its way to our interested and even affectionate sympathy, that we soon can hardly realize she is not one of our most intimate acquaintances rather than an ideal creation of another's brain. Considered quite apart from its connection with any social or political institutions, this tale possesses no common merits. Indeed its chief attractions, and which will give it a permanent place on our shelves, belong to it rather in spite of than because of this connection with topics, of themselves worn thread-bare. Its own beauties will insure it a permanent popularity and a world-wide passport to favor, wherever ideal loveliness, fidelity alike to our common nature and to the impulses of the human heart, joined with an attractive and well arranged narrative, may look for admirers and for readers.—Boston Atlas.

See advertisement of the above work in another column.

Count Boulbon's Fate.—The execution of this gallant adventurer is detailed in late California papers. He was shot at sunrise on the beach, at a distance from the quarters where the French were confined. He stood erect with his arms folded, and when the word "present" was given, he locked his hands behind his back raised his head even higher, and the instant after the discharge fell dead. He received four balls. A platoon of four men was detached to shoot him. Our report states that the first platoon was so deeply affected by his heroic conduct, that they refused to shoot him, and that another platoon had to be sent out by the governer. It is said that a medal lion that he wore upon his breast was struck by a ball, and the parts forced into his breast.

In the year 1887, a Mr. Charles J. Bremen came to Cassville, in this County, and shortly after took sick, lingered and died. Having no relations near and no means, his doctor and board bills and funeral expenses were paid by the county, amounting to some $80. Lately the brother of Charles ascertained the whereabouts and circumstances of his death, and that the county had rendered him such aid. He wrote to Col. Pollock, appointing him agent to confer with the proper authorities, and who promptly discharged his duty in the matter.—The brother remitted the amount to Col. Pollock, who paid it over to the Cl'k of the Board, authorized to receive the same on behalf of the County.—Grant Co. Herald.

Two steamers of Ward's line passed down on Wednesday from Milwaukee to Chicago, and is probably the closing of navigation for the line for this season. On Wednesday we had a two horse stage between Milwaukee and Waukegan; yesterday we noticed a four horse coach on the road—which latter we suppose is to be the conveyance between Milwaukee and the northern terminus of the Lake Shore Road for the season.—Kenosha Tel.

Kenosha and Beloit Road.—During a late visit to the country along the line of the Kenosha and Beloit Road we had an opportunity of witnessing the fact that the work along the route was being pushed forward with much activity.—Kenosha Tel.

Mr. Editor:

I had an interview with Mr. Osmond Bailey this morning, when he desired me to state that he understood the expressions in Mr. Bennett's explanation of yesterday, to be as follows:—That I published my last reply contrary to his (Bailey's) wishes—which is entirely different from what he understood Mr. Bennett's manuscript to read; and that my document was published with his knowledge and full consent. I assure Mr. Bennett that Mr. Bailey and myself have moved in this controversy with a mutual good understanding and concert of action.

On Tuesday afternoon I came to your office, to give consent to have my communication arrested for that day's issue. I found Mr. Bennett there on the same errand. Mr. B. proposed to meet me and Mr. Bailey on the following morning at 8 o'clock, at Mr. Bailey's house.—I attended accordingly, and waited until nearly 9 o'clock. Mr. Bennett did not come, nor have I seen or heard from him since. Had he met according to agreement, perhaps my last issue would have been altogether suppressed.

GEO. SOUTHWELL, Sen.

Lind and Weyauwega.—We had occasion, a short time since, to travel through these townships. We struck over to the south road, into Lind, and found the road crowded with life. There has been double the business done by the Wolf River boats this past section, than at any previous time: and a good share of their imports has passed over this road.

The farms in Lind township, so far as we have seen, are very well improved, for so newly-settled places, as most of them are. This present year has richly rewarded the farmers of Lind for their industry, and contentment generally prevails.

As we passed along, into the township of Weyauwega, the land became more sandy, and the soil much lighter. This land has been shunned by settlers, and is consequently less settled; though we are assured, when tried, it gives good crops.

The village of Weyauwega has grown rapidly within the past year, and is very neatly and compactly built. It really begins to show a citified appearance. Three or four new tradesmen have settled in the place recently. The church is nearly completed, and adds greater inducements for moral settlers.—Waupaca Spirit.

A Venerable Total Abstinent—The Russellville (Tenn.) Herald says, the venerable Bishop Soule remarked in the session of the Conference on Thursday morning, the 26th ult., when the report of the Committee on Temperance was up for consideration, that he was now 74 years of age, and that he had yet to learn how whiskey tasted! He said he was not a member of any temperance organization, but was satisfied the use of alcoholic liquors was hurtful in the extreme, and a great curse to any nation, and he disired to see the Manufacture and sale of the same entirely prohibited. It would be a happy day for our nation if all her citizens entertained similar views.

There is some complaint of a scarcity of money in the mining region, though it does not amount to a tightness. We do not think business is arrested in the least, or that it will be very soon. Pork is lower than was expected and so is grain, though both aricles are so abundant that the surplus will be heavy and the income large. Farmers' prospects are bright, and we have only to fear that they will branch out too far in lands and debt.—Grant Co. Herald.

GERMAN REFORM PAPER.

From the 7th of October, 1854, will be published Milwaukee, "DER CORSA," (THE CORSAIR,) a Weekly Paper, established to forward politica reforms, edited by BERNHARD DOMSCHKE, with Mr. L. WITTIG as a regular contributor.

The "CORSAR," will adhere to the principles set down in the Madison Platform of the 13th of July, 1854, and be, of course, opposed to those parties who like to have stagnancy instead of reform, and Slavery instead of Freedom. All those who take a warm interest in the contest against the reactionary parties and the demagogues, who take the lead of them, and in the realization of genuine Republican Principles, are invited to subscribe to the "CORSAR."

The "CORSAR" will be published every Saturday, a the price of $2,00 per year, payable in advance every six months. Since the "CORSAR," will be propagated within the State of Wisconsin, as well as abroad, it is well adapted to advertisements, which will be inserted the usual rate.

BRITISH PERIODICALS!

EARLY COPIES SECURED.

LEONARD SCOTT & CO., New York, continue to re-publish the following British Periodicals, viz:

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY (Conservative).
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig).
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church).
4. THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Liberal).
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory)

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news items, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the daily Journal, and the ponderous Tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well established literary, scientific and theological character, we urge them upon consideration of the reading public.

Arrangements are now permanently made for the receipt of Early Sheets from the British Publishers, by which we are enabled to place All Our Reprints in the hands of our subscribers about as soon as they can be furnished with the foreign copies. Although this involves a very large outlay on our part, we shall continue to furnish the Periodicals at the same low rates as heretofore, viz:

	Per ann.
For any one of the four Reviews	$3 00
For any two of the four Reviews	5 00
For any three of the four Reviews	7 00
For all four of the Reviews	8 00
For Blackwood's Magazine	3 00
For Blackwood and three Reviews	9 00
For Blackwood and the four Reviews	10 00

Payment to be made in all cases in advance. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty-five per cent. from the above prices will be allowed to clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works. Thus: Four copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30; and so on

POSTAGE.

In all the principal Cities and towns, these works will be delived, through agents, FREE OF POSTAGE.—When sent by mail the Postage to any part of the United States will be but Twenty-Four Cents a year for "Blackwood," and but Fourteen Cents a year for each of the Reviews. SHAVING & HAIR DRESSING

IN the best manner at 238 Spring Street, three doors east of the American, by

Milwaukee, July 6th. dtf GEO. H. CLARK

Three Children of Mrs. Brown, residing in Pine street, St. Louis, Mo., by a most remarkable coincidence were scrofulously inclined, the eldest (Jane) most particularly so, and the mother finding each to be the case, did all in her power to relieve the sufferer, but in vain; she became worse, the blood of the others was equally impure, and they all three were so bad at last, as to become an object of horror to their friends. The mother, about eight weeks ago, put them through a course of Holloway's Pills and Ointment, and strange, yet true it is, that their blood became thoroughly purified, and the scrofulous symptoms disappeared. They are now all three in excellent health, to the astonishment and delight of their affectionate parents. dec4daw1w

PICTORIAL HISTORY OF ALL NATIONS.—Mr. W. P. COLLINS is in town soliciting subscribers to a work entitled—"Pictorial History of All Nations from the earliest periods to the present time, by S. G. GOODRICH." It contains 1267 pages, an almost endless variety of fine maps and engravings, and is handsomely and substantially bound in Turkey Morocco.—It contains a condensed history of the manners, customs, &c., of all nations, of which anything is known—that have had an existence on this sphere.

It cost the sum of $11,000 to collect the materials for this work. It is a very valuable work, and ought to be in the hands of every family in the United States. More historical information can be gained from this work than from five times the amount of reading in any other books. The price of the work is as follows.

In one volume, Turkey Morocco, marble edges, $6; In 2 vols., do do do do $7; In 1 vol., do do full gilt edges and sides, $8; In 2 vols., do do do do $10.

FIRE IN THE SENTINEL.—About light, this morning, three boys, who sleep in the Sentinel office, were awakened by being almost suffocated by smoke. They jumped up at once, looked for the fire, but could find none. Two of them immediately started for help, while the third staid and watched for the fire.

Mr. Filmore was soon on the spot, and found the fire to be in a joist in the job-office, and that it was caused by the heat of the chimney, belonging to the oil store under the Sentinel office, where a fire had been kept through the night. The store being locked Mr. Filmore broke one of the large glasses in the door and got into the store.

The fire was speedily extinguished with little or no damage.

BOSWORTH'S NEW STORE.—Messrs. Bosworth & Sons have completed their new store, built on the premises of the one consumed by fire in August last, and are moving in it. The building is well constructed, and presents a fine appearance.

Messrs. Bosworth & Sons have been engaged in the drug business for several years, have an extensive custom and are upright and honorable dealers.

BROKE THROUGH.—As a span of horses was crossing the river with a load of bark, this forenoon, and when near Butler & Bowers' Livery Stable, the wagon broke through the ice and went to the bottom of the river. The horses were detached from the wagon and taken safely ashore. The wagon was afterwards got out.

Police Court.

John Hares was fined, yesterday afternoon, $2 for leaving his team unhitched.

No business before the Court this forenoon.

WEATHER.—The weather has moderated very much, and the sleighing is slowly leaving us.

THE schooner Henry Hagar, one of the vessels loaded with iron for the Lake Shore Road, is reported to have sprung aleak at Beaver Island and laid up for the winter.

BOQUET.—Mr. R. Parker, of Wauwatosa, presented us yesterday with a splendid boquet, from his green-house.

Mr. Parker is prepared to supply the public with all varieties of flowers. He has the most beautiful Camelia de Japonicas that we ever saw.

COUNTY SEAT.—Waupaca Co. has got into a regular muss in regard to the location of their County Seat. The people voted in favor of its remaining at Waupaca, but the Board of Supervisors have passed a resolution that it shall be at Waupaca.

POETRY.

There is dew for the flow'ret
 And honey for the bee;
And bowers for the wild bird,
 And love for you and me!

There are tears for the many
 And pleasure for the few;
But let the world pass on, dear,
 There's love for me and you!

There's care that will not leave us,
 And pain that will not flee;
But in our hearts unaltered,
 Sits love, 'tween you and me!

OUR love, it ne'er was reconed,
 Yet good it is and true;
It's half the world to me, love,
 It's all the world to you!

TRUE HEROISM.—"Wideswarth," of the Boston Post, thus defines true heroism:

Boast not of firmness in the deadly strife,
 Where musket bullets round your helmet scatter,
 And make unhealthful music with their clatter,
Threatening short foreclose of the lease of life;
Boast not of calmness when the surgy wave
 Dashes your barque in fierce commotion down
 To ocean's deepest deeps while dark rocks frown
On either hand, to threat you with a grave;
Boast not of courage when the 'larum knells
 Its loud discordance on the airs of night,
 And crackling flames throw round a ruddy light,
And bell and blaze blend with the fireman's yells—
Till you can stand, without the thought of flying
The clamor of a spiteful baby's crying.

SCHOOL BOY PROMISE.

A SKETCH BY A MAN OF FIFTY.

Theodore S. Fay, in narrating his early adventures in the capacity of pedagogue, gives the following as his experience of youthful indications of future greatness:

Thirty years ago I was penniless and without a friend. I had engaged unsuccessfully in two or three forlorn speculations, in the course of which I wandered about the State with a reckless independence, sometimes mourning over the past, and sometimes anticipating the black and gloomy future. At length my funds and every invention to increase them were exhausted, and shunning all society, I spent a week in devising plans by which I was to be rescued from my embarrassments. I wrote to a friend, who was the proprietor of an academy of some renown, and offered my services as an assistant. They were kindly accepted. His answer enclosed advance money to a considerable amount; and in a few days, as I were but the image of some changing dream, I found myself away from the wide green hills and shadowy wood of the country, pent up in a small room with a class of boys whom I was to initiate into the mysteries of geography and astronomy.

The first lad was a dull, singular-looking being, of the most unpromising exterior. Judging from appearances, the probability of teaching his "young idea how to shoot," seemed a matter of considerable doubt. I strove several times for a glimpse of intelligence in his mind in vain. It was like the labor of the Brazilian slave, digging in the sand for diamonds.

"Where is Asia?" asked I.

He reddened, put out his under lip, cast down his eyes, and at length found words to say,

"On the map, sir."

"Point to its real situation."

He struck out his clumsy hand like the fore-paw of a dancing bear, and pointed in a direction about twenty degrees above the horizon.

"What causes the day?"

"The sun, sir."

"What causes the night?"

"The moon, sir."

I was quite satisfied as to the extent of his abilities, and passed on.

The next was a clear complexioned, noble looking fellow, with large dark eyes and glossy hair, curled about his high temples; his full lip was red like a girl's, and his voice sweet as music. He had a correct knowledge of what he had gone over, and a facility in learning whatever was placed before him. The few interrogations which I put to him were easily replied to, till at length he missed several in succession. Then came a shadow over his mourning face, and the tears stole up softly into his eyes, and hung upon their long lashes trembling. I could not but wonder to myself if he had a sister or a cousin who resembled him; but what was that to me? So I went on.

The next had nothing to distinguish him from boys in general. His countenance was one of those common faces which we never notice. He had pins stuck in the sleeve of his coat, and twine hanging out of the corner of his pocket; his stockings hanging and slipped down over his shoes, and the strings trailed along the floor. He fidgetted with his button-hole, and put his foot in his lap, and at length got one of his companions laughing at something he had in his hand. I called him to me and he thrust it into his pocket, which stuck out from his body as if it contained the whole amount of his personal estate. I desired him to empty it upon the desk, and forth came a medly of school-boy treasures; isinglas, slate-pencils, a ball, chewed India rubber, paper boats, a top, and among the rest, a fly-box, containing a most unfortunate prisoner, who, without judge or jury, had been summarily condemned—his wings stripped from his back, and hanged by a hair rope on an appropriate pine-wood gallows, which my friend had manufactured for the occasion.

The other was an awkward, lubberly, overgrown creature, with a pair of green eyes, that looked like a cat's. His hair stuck up straight on every side like a coat brush; he had a huge nose that occupied a third of his face, and he spoke with a cracked voice that had as little melody in it as the filing of a saw. He sat upon the bench with as little animation, as if he had been made out of putty; and though he did not answer any question, yet he exhibited no other sign of grief than might have been detected in a yawn that opened a mouth of most appalling dimensions.

Now, mark the caprices of fortune. Thirty years have gone with the wind. I have taken an interest in watching the progress of my little class. The last mentioned grew up into a poet. He has written some of the most delightful stanzas I ever saw. They breathe a soul of the highest nature, and a heart stored with all that ennobles and sweetens life. The dunce, whom I first examined, at this instant holds an office in the service of the United States, where his knowledge of human nature, and his powerful talents, have made his name familiar to every ear, as his praises will be to future generations. He, in whom I found nothing to distinguish him from common boys but his slovenly appearance, is now one of the neatest and wealthiest merchants in the city, and universally beloved for his intelligence and virtue; and the other, whose sweet face and brilliant mind won my affections immediately and awakened the liveliest hopes for his future, sleeps in the grave.—Rural New-Yorker.

MARINE NEWS.—Propeller Niagar, Ashore.—A despatch from Detroit, yesterday, states that a brig was lying out in the River near Grosse Point light house; two fore and afters were in the ice, about 10 miles east of Milk River Point, names unknown.

Also that a large brig, name unknown, was lying at anchor near Port Huron. One fore-and-after aground on the Flats; brig Canadian in the river, above Port Clinton. The Hercules and Old Fellow were in Ashley Harbor, frozen in. Prop. Niagara, with full cargo of merchandise for Chicago and Milwaukee, was ashore in Presque Isle Bay, with 5 feet water in her hold.
